

Jim Daggs

February 18, 1956 - October 2, 2020

Obituary for Jim Daggs, age 64, long-time business owner and former Mayor of Ackley:

James Burnell "Jim" Daggs passed away peacefully Friday afternoon, October 2, 2020, at Mary Greeley Hospital in Ames, Iowa, with his wife, Pat, by his side.

He was born February 18, 1956, in Eldora, Iowa, to Curtis "Bus" and Marcia Daggs, who preceded him in death. He married Patricia Yaw of Lake Park, Iowa, on July 20, 2002.

Jim is survived by his wife, Pat of Ackley, Iowa; brother, Steve (Carol) Daggs of Washington, Illinois; Pat's daughters, Jamie (Ryan) Van Erem and their children, Jack and Jersey, of Waterloo and Audra (Justin) Crispin and their children, Sydney and Kennedy, of Alamogordo, New Mexico. He is also survived by his nephews, Chris (Monica) Daggs of Des Moines, Iowa, and Nick Daggs of Nashville, Tennessee.

He had a lifelong interest in printing, acquiring his first letter press at fourteen which found its home in the basement of Daggs Sport Shop in Eldora. After graduating from Eldora Community High School, he worked for several commercial printing companies.

At the age of twenty, he partnered with Charles Dunham to acquire the Ackley Publishing Company and the Ackley World Journal. Later, he bought out Dunham's interest and in 1992 sold the Ackley World Journal to focus on his growing commercial printing business which continues today under Pat's management.

Over his fifty year printing career, Jim assembled one of the nation's largest collections of letter presses, Ludlow presses, Linotype machines, Heidelberg "Windmill" presses and associated printing equipment under one roof. He was an expert in operating and restoring old Heidelberg's and wrote several manuals for their operation.

He shared this expertise, hosting workshops for art students from the University of Iowa and Iowa State University to experience typesetting, letter press printing and the use of wooden type.

Jim was a long time member of the Amalgamated Printers Association, an international hobby printer's group, holding various leadership roles and serving as its president from 2011-2014.

Jim served five terms as mayor of Ackley from 2005 to 2015. During his tenure, Ackley built a new medical center.

Jim had a love for kids. He never had any of his own, but he was a foster father to many young boys and would give everything he had to help a child. Jim was a mentor to many young adults wanting to learn the printing trade and many now have a business of their own as a printer.

No services are planned at this time. In lieu of flowers, memorials can be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

“ Pat

I am sorry for your loss. I have known Jim for many years.

I worked at Dagg's Sport Shop when Jim got his first printing press. Let me just say that getting it into the basement of the store was a Herculean effort.

Then a few years later it was moved to the store's new location.

As you know, when you live in a small town every one is family.

My Willig cousin lived near the Daggs family. Jim, Steve, Marcia, and Buss are precious friends to me, even if we haven't seen each other for years.

Again my sympathies go to you at this time.

May I.Its an honor,A composing room tribute.I go back to about 1969.

Mr.Daggs worked in Grundy Center at Spokesman Press. He was totally in love with old linotypes and presses.At a very young age too..I was more on the editorial side.Later Mr.Daggs took up running the World Journal. a great weekly which fought for subscriptions to stay on top in Hardin County for legal publishing. Soon Chuck Dunham from Deep River came to Ackley.He drove a small flat beed with a ugly linotype on the bed of the truck.,,They were friends. I volunteered columns to the Journal.Jim paid me great.Nothing.But was fun.Small town newspapering...sold old type cases=California case.did job printing...so many things he did well. Will remember Mr.Daggs.So sorry his time came. Never know. Will be missed.Glad we knew him. We need a moment.....thanks Lord...
