*Katie and Jon,
My heart felt sympathies to you on your beloved mom's passing so quickly.*

I enjoyed reading her obituary above telling all about her of what she did for a Living and all the fun she had off hours with her family, friends, and her favorite activities.

I know Ashley thought the world of her for being her second mom for two years in her life in high school and then continuously afterwards.

Rest in peace, Joanne, where you can gamble anytime you want now in heaven 24 seven.

Lol

If you have your mom on video or a cassettes, make copies of them each and put the original ones away.

When you miss your mom, the most, get them out to play hearing their voices and laughter and watching their mannerisms and gestures as they will be in the same room, you are.

Listen with your hearts, and you will hear her daily as well.

Best wishes in the days, months, years to come as each day will get better in time.
