Our most important memory of Kay is her wedding, when Marvin was best man. Craig waited a long time to find his soulmate, and they have had a wonderful life. We spent a lot of time with them traveling the state for bowling tournaments. We shopped, Marvin and Craig tried to bowl. We will miss Kay.

I am so grateful to Kay for her love for my cousin, Craig. It took him a while to find the person with whom he could share the rest of his life, and it is so sad that it was cut short after only a few years. R. I. P., Kay. You will be missed.

What I treasure the most about Kay was her easy laugh and her positive outlook. And that she dearly loved my cousin, Craig. Every moment spent with Kay was a complete delight. Kay, I will never, ever forget you and will always remember you with love.
