“ Sympathy to the family. I have grown up knowing Sylvia and always a quick laugh and fun to visit with. A dedicated member of her church and the Lutheran school.. A memory will not forget is after a Lenten service a number of years ago she did not leave the pew. I went over to see why and there was no response. Needless to say 911 was summoned and she scared several of us. Not long after she was back in church. A good gal.

“ This is not so much about Sylvia but about my family and I visiting her and her family. What I remember is that they were one of the only families that didn't have a television, when I was younger, but when we would go see them, us kids would go upstairs and play with an old crank record player ( a victrola?) ,, we always had a great time visiting them, even though they didn't have the television, which now I think is a good thing! My family and myself always hold Sylvia as a very special lady! My condolences to ALL of the family and friends!
