“ Wilma was always so warm and welcoming to me. One time she told me she needed her car washed but did not like going through the automatic because it made her nervous. So I said I'd drive her car but she had to come with me. We went and she was so uncomfortable while we were in the car wash and so relieved when we were done, but we had a good laugh about it later. She was so kind and caring. I always enjoyed her.
